Let me know what phone number you're at so I can call you. FYI...from what I'm being told, there is NO intent at this time for the Governor to authorize an executive order declaring a state of emergency, either limited to the city, or any part or the whole of the state.

John, I have taken a shot at filling in the blanks. I don't know whether the Md. National Guard will need to be engaged—so I left that language in.

Could you begin to run this up your flagpole so that we are ready – if the worst case transpires. (Which so far does not appear to be imminent.)

My understanding is that the plan is for Governor Hogan and Mayor Rawlings-Blake to do a joint announcement of concurrent declarations of emergency. The Mayor would be announcing the local state of emergency and the Governor the state-wide state of emergency.

Thanks, Suzanne
